

CATHOLIC LEGAL IMMIGRATION NETWORK, INC.

Seeking Interns for Spring and Summer of 2012

The Catholic Legal Immigration Network, Inc.'s (CLINIC) is seeking interns for its Advocacy section for the spring and summer sessions in 2012.

Interns will assist attorneys with administrative advocacy efforts to remedy problems faced by low-income immigrants and CLINIC member agencies and assist in our efforts to support state advocates working to combat local anti-immigrant measures. Tasks may include:

- Reviewing government regulations and policy memos
- Drafting comments on federal regulations
- Attending meetings with government agencies, hearings and other events
- Assisting affiliate programs with individual case inquiries
- Researching and analyzing state immigration-related legislation
- Assisting with the maintenance of the BIA Pro Bono Project

Applicants must have strong writing and communication skills and excellent attention to detail. These internships are ideal for students considering a career in public policy or advocacy.

If interested, please send a resume and cover letter to Allison Posner, CLINIC's Director of Advocacy, at aposner@cliniclegal.org.

Visit our web site at www.cliniclegal.org.

CLINIC is a subsidiary of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB)