Re: Recent DHS Measures That Threaten the Safety and Family Unity of Vulnerable Immigrant Children

Dear Acting Secretary Wolf:

The undersigned 122 organizations strongly oppose recent Department of Homeland Security (DHS) measures that threaten the safety and family unity of vulnerable immigrant children. DHS appears to have disregarded the lessons of 2018, when its family separation policy split thousands of children from their parents, inflicted enduring damage on separated kids, and spurred bipartisan outrage. Under cover of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Department has redoubled its efforts to undo legal protections that keep kids safe and families together. By expelling arriving unaccompanied children, deporting unaccompanied children already living within the U.S. without required court proceedings, and reviving family separation at detention centers, it is once again causing kids profound suffering and disturbing the nation’s conscience. We urge DHS to end these destructive policies immediately.

Since March, DHS has expelled over 1,000 unaccompanied children who arrived at the U.S. southern border. These summary returns violate the bipartisan Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008 (TVPRA) by depriving kids of protection screenings, court hearings, and referrals to Office of Refugee Resettlement custody—of any meaningful opportunity, in other words, to seek protection from danger. Expelled children face the risk of human trafficking, persecution, and other grave harm. Though DHS has used COVID-19 as a pretext for its actions, medical experts have made clear that this policy lacks a valid public health rationale. Indeed, DHS has full authority to exempt unaccompanied children and asylum seekers, as it has other populations, from the entry restrictions underlying such returns. But the Department has refused to do so.

During this same period, DHS has deported certain unaccompanied children living within the U.S. without according them the legal safeguards that Congress plainly intended. Among other actions, it is truncating these kids’ access to counsel and stripping them of court proceedings. In particular, DHS is targeting unaccompanied children sent with their parents to dangerous conditions in Mexico under the “Migrant Protection Protocols” (MPP) who then re-entered the U.S. alone in pursuit of safety. This use of MPP, a program that cripples due process while placing families’ lives in peril, as an excuse to preclude legal protections for unaccompanied children doubles down on MPP’s harmfulness and risks returning kids to immediate danger.

Finally, directly echoing its initiatives in 2018, last month DHS revived family separation at Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) family detention centers in Texas and Pennsylvania.\(^4\) Notwithstanding health and safety concerns at these facilities stemming from the pandemic, ICE failed to exercise its authority to release detained families together. Instead, ICE agents forced parents into an impossible—and wholly unnecessary—choice: keep their families detained indefinitely or face separation from their children. Panic quickly spread among family members who feared being split apart.

The national outrage stirred by the family separation crisis of 2018 yielded a clear message: our country will not abide policies that systematically undermine children’s safety and family unity. Tragically, the measures adopted by DHS under cover of the pandemic do exactly that. They should end now. We call upon the Department to cease expulsions of unaccompanied children and asylum seekers at the U.S. southern border; stop deportations of unaccompanied children living in the U.S. interior without required court proceedings; release detained families together; and never again pursue family separation.

Sincerely,
